Nominations For Delegates-at-Large to National G. O. P. Convention to be Made From Floor

STATE CONVENTION OPENED

Senator Watson, Delivering Keynote Says Politics is Not Question of

NOT A MEMBER OF THE KLAN

Widely Cheered as He Enters Tomlinson Hall—Mention of Coolidge's Name Brings Ovation

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., May 21—Amid cheers that drowned the blare of brass bands, the Republican state convention opened in Tomlinson Hall today.

With the Ku Klux Klan factions at the storm point and an open battle in progress over selection of delegates-at-large to the national convention, a strenuous today's program was in prospect.

The audience arose and cheered wildly as Watson entered the hall and walked upon the stage. The convention was called to order by Clyde A. Walb, state chairman.

State Chairman Walb in his introductory speech predicted a Republican victory in the state and nation this fall. He then called on Watson for the keynote address.

Watson was frequently interrupted by applause during his speech. Mention of President Coolidge's name brought the assembly to their feet for an ovation that lasted several minutes.

So-called slates for delegates-at-large to the national convention were cast aside just before the convention opened when Watson forces seeking to put over an "all Watson slate" met strenuous opposition to their program.

The field has been thrown open and nominations for the seven delegates will be made from the floor of the convention on Thursday. Watson announced through his political leaders.

Wild applause broke out in the convention hall when Watson departed from his prepared speech and discussed the Ku Klux Klan.

"I did not vote for Ed Jackson for governor, but he is nominated and the moment he was nominated he became my candidate."

"The Ku Klux Klan vote in the primaries helped Jackson win the nomination in a walk-away over five other candidates."

"I don't belong to the Ku Klux

FARES REDUCED ON INTERURBAN LINES

Service Commission For Log
Rolling Here

STEAM LINE CUT PROBABLE

Reduced fare to Rushville will apply on all electric lines in Indiana;
it was announced today by the public service commission, following a request of the Modern Woodmen lodge, asking that reduced rates be given on account of the Indiana State Log rolling July 4.

The rates from all points will be one and one-half times the regular one way fare, or a reduction one-half on one of the fares here. An effort to obtain the same rate on steam lines is being taken up with the railroad commission in Chicago.

The state convention here will mark the first Fourth of July celebration that has been observed in Rushville for 25 years. The meeting will not apply for the Woodmen, but will be in form of an old-fashioned celebration and homecoming. The committees are at work on the plans, free attractions, daylight and night tractions, will make Rushville the center of attraction on that day in Indiana.

The bars on fire works will be let down, and it is expected that a continuous bombardment will be heard from dawn until late at night.

High Spots in Senator Watson's Keynote Address

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., May 21—High spots in Senator Watson's keynote address at the Republican state convention today follows:

"The Republican party is constructive. It builds on the sure foundations laid down by our fathers. It has not,
it does not stand, it will not risk in speculative experiment the priceless heritage that has come down to us."

"The Republican party stands for the fullest cooperation of the United States with foreign nations for the betterment of conditions abroad consistent with the preservation of our national integrity."

"We Republicans have no sympathy with socialism, that imported product of European social and economic conditions with which America has naught in common."

"Our present policy is to put taxes so high that men of wealth are literally forced to invest in tax free securities and then we turn about and demand the passage of a law that will prevent them from thus investing their wealth."

"For weeks the newspapers of the land have reeked with stories of public corruption, exaggerated out of all proportion to their true values, broadcast from the capitol at Washington as an overture to the campaign of 1924. Believe me, fellow Republicans, when I say that the government of this nation is clean and safe and sound."

"I do not fear the threatened use of the so-called 'labor vote' against the Republican party, which has placed labor on the highest levels of life ever attained by workers in all the world's history."

Senator James E. Watson Sounds Keynote of Indiana Republicanism
at State Convention

Sets Forth Achievements of Harding—Coolidge Administration and Praises Coolidge

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., May 21—Declaring that the principles of the Republican party have made the United States the most progressive nation in the world, Senator James E. Watson today paid high tribute to the record of the Harding-Coolidge administration in his keynote address before the Republican state convention.

"The continuous application of the principles of the Republican party to the administration of our governmental affairs have produced the greatest advancement and development of our institutions and our citizenship found anywhere on earth," Watson declared.

"Abraham Lincoln's first declaration of political principles is the creek of the Republican party today.
The Republican party will not risk in speculative experiment the priceless heritage that has come down to us."

Watson touched upon every phase of every national issue and assailed the Wilson administration for its wartime expenditures.

"Billions were wasted and worse than wasted while our armies at the front lacked the essentials of war," Watson declared. "I marvel that in the face of this record our Democratic friends in Washington can talk of graft and incompetency."

The speaker went to length into the subject of taxation and lauded the Mellon plan as highly desirable in that it "reduces taxation" all along the line so as to relieve the burden of those moderately well off and at the same time lower the tax rate on those large incomes so that they will

Tire Lost, Found, Stolen And Then Found Again

William Hardwick, who runs a motor bus between here and Brookville, is once more in possession of a spare tire which has had a hectic experience during the past week.

The tire was lost near Laurel.
An Indianapolis automobile salesman found it, took it to Indianapolis until Mr. Hardwick claimed it. When the finder went to his garage for the tire, to ship it to Rushville, he found it and his automobile had been stolen.

The stolen automobile was found in west Indianapolis a few days ago and the truck tire which had been left in an alley in the same vicinity, was found and has been returned to the owner.

Record Long Distance Telephone Conversation

A long distance telephone record was made here Sunday morning at four o'clock, when Mrs. O. L. Stephens of near

Dr. J. L. Norris at Long View, State of Washington. Dr. Norris called up to inquire about the condition of his grandfather, James Gray, who is seriously ill. Mrs. Stephens and Dr.
Norris carried on a conversation for five minutes, and every word was as distinct as if it were a call from some neighbor, she said.

POSTER CONTEST PRIZES AWARDED

ILLUSTRATE BOY SCOUT LAW

First Prize is 14-Day Trip to Boys Camp and Second is $4 Certificate on Trip

In the Poster Contest put on during Boys' Week by the Boy Scout Department for a poster illustrating one of the twelve Scout Laws first and second prizes have been awarded.
First prize was won by Burke Du-gle, a Junior in the local high school.
He chose for his subject "A Scout is Helpful". It is in this law the Scout promises to do at least one good turn daily to some body.

This winning poster depicts two boys in full Scout uniform chopping and carrying wood for an aged couple who live alone and are unable to get out in the snow to provide fuel for themselves. The coloring on this poster is very neatly done in water colors. The lettering is done in black India ink in a very neat form at the bottom of the poster.

The first prize is one complete 14 day camping trip to the Boys' Camp at Turkey Run State Park.

Second prize was won by Raymond Jones who used the law "A Scout is Kind". He depicts very cleverly how a Scout is a friend to animals striving to save and protect them. The second prize is a certificate worth $4 on a 14 day trip to Turkey Run.

All of the posters will be placed in a down town window on display some time this week. Albert Cotton and Henrietta Coleman acted as judges in the contest.

President Coolidge Will Sign Re-

Washington, May 21—By a vote of 10 to 6 the senate agriculture committee today rejected Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals nitrate and power project.

Washington, May 21—President Coolidge will act soon, possibly tomorrow, on the immigration bill containing the Japanese exclusion, it was said today by his close advisers.
Secrecy is being maintained by the administration as to what the president has decided to do.

Washington, May 21—Congress-sional leaders today saw but one obstacle to adjournment on June 7 and that was enactment of a farm relief measure satisfactory to mid-vised by the conference will be signed by the president, the dictators daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom J. Geraghty of Hollywood, California, and until fifteen years ago residents of this city, has quickly arisen to feature parts in moving pictures, according to an announcement that she will be at the Castle theatre next

featured.

friends first opportunity to get a glimpse of her on the screen.
She had a minor part in "Black Oxen", but could scarcely be distinguished.

Miss Geraghty will play opposite Jack Dempsey in a series

A free tuition at the Indiana State Normal college at Terre Haute will be given to some Rush county student who is expecting to take up teaching as a profession as B. D. Farthing, county school superintendent has received notice from the college that he could appoint one applicant.

Mr. Farthing has not made the appointment, and will entertain applications. The value of the tuition is $50. Mr. Farthing also has two other appointments to make for the Freshman class at Indiana university.

The county board of commissioners make two appointments each year to Purdue, which gives Rush county five appointments to state colleges.

BACCALAUREATE ON SUNDAY

This Week Will Mark End of Active Work in Schools—Pupils to Receive Report Cards Tuesday

Dr. Lewis A. Convis will deliver the address at the annual commencement exercises of the Rushville high school, which will be held next Tuesday evening at eight o'clock at the Graham Annex auditorium, it was announced today.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by the Rev. H. W. Hargett, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Main Street Christian church.

All of the churches of the city will unite in this service, which is always of great interest to the public.
Dr. Hargett's subject will be "Life, Royal University."

Dr. Convis, commencement address will be on the subject, "Adventure in Happiness." He lectured at the Rush county chan-tanna on Russia and won a warm place in the affections of the people of Rush county. Last year Dr.
Convis delivered the commencement address for the Anderson high school and Supt. W. A. Denny speaks in highest terms of his lecture.

The exact number to be graduated with the class of 1924 was not determined today, due to the fact that some members of the class have not yet made certain that they will get the required number of credits.

It is expected that the class will be composed of approximately fifty graduates, but will not be the equal in size, of the class that graduated last year. At that time fifty-four

Raymond Smith, Charged with the Crime, Makes Accusation Testify-

WIFE CHIEF STATE WITNESS

(By United Press)

Plymouth, Ind., May 21—Raymond Smith, on trial for the murder of his 73-year-old grandmothere two years ago, today accused his wife as the slayer in testifying in his own behalf.

Smith said he was at the mail box in front of the house when he heard a shot. He said he rushed into the house and heard his wife say
"Something terrible has happened."
Going into the kitchen, Smith found his grandmother lying on the floor in a pool of blood, he testified.
Nearby lay a shotgun. His wife was in the next room in a hysterical condition, he said.

Mrs. Smith accused her husband of the murder and has been the principal witness for the state during the trial.

Attorneys for Smith will probably rest today and the case will go to the jury tomorrow.

BUS ORDINANCE RATES REDUCED

City Council Will Consider Measure Further Before Placing it on

PLAN FOR 4TH CELEBRATION

Sale of Fireworks Will be Permitted
Despite Ordinance—Morgan
Street Delay Discussed

A further discussion on the proposed passage of the motor vehicle ordinance, licensing and regulating taxi-cabs, busses and trucks, was taken up at the session of the city council Tuesday, when the ordinance was read for the second time, and further action delayed until the next meeting.

The long ordinance, which is fees that busses and trucks are to pay, together with several sections that appear to the councilmen as having no place in the ordinance, and which have been characterized by Mayor Thomas as "class legislation", will probably be entirely revamped before final action.

The rates on taxi-cabs and passenger busses were cut last night, following the first reading of the ordinance. Under the revised schedule busses or cars that seat seven passengers or less will pay $15 a year;
not more than 12 passengers, $25;
not more than 18 passengers, $35;
not more than 24 passengers $50 and $75 for busses in excess of 24 passengers.

The rates for trucks were cut, and for a ton or less the fee will be $5 a year; not more than 2 tons $10; not more than 3 tons, $15 and all over 3 tons, the fee will be $20. After the discussion on the second reading, the action was deferred, and further time is wanted on the proposed ordinance.

The city councilmen will co-operate in all ways possible with the Modern Woodman lodge and all committees in charge of the Fourth of July celebration, when thousands of people are expected here. The use of Memorial park will be given for fire works displays and band concerts.

On account of the big celebration,
the city will be turned "wide open"
and an old fashioned Independence Day will prevail, with all of the firecrackers and fire works on hand. An ordinance prohibiting the sale of fireworks, will be overlooked, and merchants will be instructed not to sell any of the fireworks until the afternoon of July 3.

The streets will be painted for parking space within a few days, and the zone lines established. The work of painting the streets was left in the hands of the fire committee. The traffic posts down town will also be

I. & C. PREPARES FOR A TEMPORARY TRACK

Force of Men on Hand to Move Rails and Make Way for Improvement
of Morgan Street

CONTRACTORS TO RUSH WORK

The Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company this morning began work on the moving of their car tracks in Morgan street, and a force of 25 men was on hands. It had been intimated that the street paying would be delayed on account of the moving of the car tracks, but officials of the line state that they intend to push their part of the work.
The Andrews Asphalt Paving company, contractors, have finished with the concrete foundation on the three lower blocks. The concrete mixer has been shipped to Newcastile where a contract is being started, and the steam shovel also was sent last week.

Today the traction company was unloading cinders along the east side of the street, and the track will be pushed over on the cinder foundation, making room then for the progress of the rest of the street. The other car track will be removed, and the one track centered in the street.

The paving contractors expect to return the equipment here, and rush the job to completion within a month after the car tracks have been moved and set in place.

ONE OBSTACLE TO ADJOURNMENT

disregard the clamor for other legislative and get away for the summer. Progressives will aid in this move by dropping their fight for repeal of the rate making section of the present law, one of the main points in their legislative program.

With this decision, the farm relief bill started rolling in both houses. While the house had the McNary-Haugen measure under consideration, Senator Norris in the senate announced that he would move, probably today, to take up his Norris-Sinclair agriculture bill.

Here is how leader feel about the outlook now:

Senator Robinson, Democrat: "The chances for adjournment June 7 are very good. I see no objection from the Democratic side."

Senator Brookhart—"If a good farm relief bill is passed we will have no objection to adjournment. The president would not sign any repeal of the rail law and so it seems useless to press our fight upon that now and force congress to remain through the summer."

Senator Curtis, Republican—"The senate is a very peculiar legislative body and nobody can tell what it will do next but I see no present objections to adjournment."

These statements take into account the demands of the Ford Muscle Shoals group for action before adjournment; the world court group's announced intention of forcing a vote upon that issue, and declarations by numerous senators that they intend to call up their special bills.

Washington, May 21—Senate and house conferees today reached an agreement on the final sum of the tax bill.

The agreement provides for the democratic normal and surtax rates but eliminates the provisions for full publicity of income tax rates and substitutes the house flat 12 1/2 percent corporation tax for the graduated scale in the senate bill.

ACRES OF RECORDS FILED

War Department Has Prepared a List of "Don'ts" For the 5,250,000 Possible Claimants

By WILLIAM LOSH
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, May 21—Three government departments today started the prodigious task of preparation to pay the veterans the bonus congress gave them yesterday.

The war and navy department began search of acres of records and scrutiny of millions of papers, while the Veterans Bureau which will issue the bonus certificates, began to whip its administrative machinery into shape.

The war department has by far the greatest task with files of 5,250,000 possible claimants to go through.

The navy department fares more easily with only 551,736 enlisted men, 11,880 women yeoman and 80,000 marines. Of all these, it is estimated 3,427,866 will get some form of bonus.

Arrangements have been made to distribute application blanks through postoffices, the American Legion, various military headquarters and various civic societies.

The war department issued the following list of "don'ts" to veterans which it says, if followed will speed up the work:

- 1—Don't write for application blanks. They will be distributed as soon as prepared.
- 2—Read instructions carefully.
- 3—Do not pay fees other than notary charges required in certain cases.
- 4—Do not write the war department for information required on the blank. Do the best you can from memory.
- 5—Mail applications in the envelopes which will be distributed with the blanks.

High school students who were not exempted will take their term examinations Friday and pupils of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, will also take their examinations at that time and be dismissed for good, because they have not had as many vacations this year as the junior and senior high school.

Pupils of the first, second and third grades will follow the usual routine of work Monday and will receive their report cards Tuesday afternoon, along with the other pupils of the schools.

In contrast with the size of the graduating classes of today, the class of twenty years ago today, which was composed of sixteen pupils, was recalled. Those who received diplomas then were as follows:

SAYS THAT MANPOWER IS A GREAT ESSENTIAL

E. H. Lyle, Sheldon School Director, Speaks to Rotarians on "Putting More Brains into Business"

PROCRASTINATION DEPLORED

E. H. Lyle, director of the Indianapolis division of the Sheldon School, spoke to the Rotary club Tuesday noon on "Putting More Brains into Business", emphasizing the importance of manpower in business.

The school he represents is headed by Arthur Frederick Sheldon, internationally famed as a business expert, who gave Rotary International its motto, "He profits most who serves best."

Mr. Lyle set forth a program by which he said any man could improve his business, and emphasized the importance of men, as compared with money and machinery.

"The greatest need of business today is manpower," he said. "Money and machinery are only stored manpower."

Business men, to make their business of service to their customers, he said, should be able to analyze condition, should have good judgment, essential honesty, faith based on constructive experience, and initiative. He deplored procrastination in business, declaring that it was at the bottom of many failures.

Guests at the meeting included Mr. Dettrich and Mr. Bierer of Indianapolis and L. Link of this city.

Delegate Slate Cast Aside; Election To Be Open Battle

Watson continued after the demonstration had subsided. "I don't belong to the Catholic church, but I have no objections to any other man belonging if he wants to."

"Politics is not a question of race, creed or class."

The first tilt between the rival groups came in caucusing over the slate of delegates-at-large to the national convention.

A report leaked out of a caucus of old guard leaders that only friends of Senator Watson who would back him for the nomination for vice-president would find a berth on the delegation to Cleveland.

The arrangement met the approval of the Klan element headed by H. W. Evans, imperial wizard, who journeyed here from Atlanta to be on hand for the state convention, and Walter Bossert, imperial representative.

In the camp of the Stephenson faction of the Klan, bitter resentment was aroused by the move to bring the Watson and Bossert elements into alliance.

The principle battle ground between the Klan factions will be on delegates-at-large to the national convention and on selection of nominees for a few of the state offices.

It is tacitly understood that the party platform will make no direct reference to the Klan but will include a plank pledging the party to a guarantee of religious liberty in the general terms of the constitution.

This plank will be satisfactory to Republican klansmen and at the same time will serve as an answer to any anti-Klan plank the Democratic state convention may adopt in June.

The convention as a matter of routine business will ratify the nomination of Ed Jackson as the party's candidate for governor. With the aid of the Klan vote, Jackson won a walk away over five other candidates in the primaries.

The sudden manner in which the Klan affiliated itself with the Republican party and picked a candidate for it was rather disconcerting to the organization Republican leaders, but after the situation was carefully studied, it was decided the best thing to do was to bring the klansmen together to work for the election of the ticket.

The row over the slate of delegates-at-large to the national convention assumed serious proportions last night.

From a good many sources, including Ed Jackson, came opposition to the proposal to include only Watson backers. It was said the plan was a scheme to keep former Senator Beveridge and Postmaster General New off the delegation.

Senator Watson, Governor Branch, State Chairman Walb and George Lockwood, editor of the National Republican, are regarded as certain of choice for the delegation. The other three places are in doubt.

James P. Goodrich, former governor, voluntarily withdrew his name from consideration as a possible delegate saying he was weary of the factional fights in the party.

The tentative draft of the platform

indorses the public service commission law and makes no reference to repeal of the direct primary.

One plank will probably ask that funds of the state board of agriculture be placed under the supervision of the state treasurer. This plank is the outgrowth of the loan of $155,000 of the board's money to former Governor McCray.

Delegates will meet by congressional districts in the state house at 7:30 o'clock tonight to choose district delegates to the national convention, in Cleveland.

A hot contest over delegates loomed in some of the districts, particularly in the fifth and sixth.

According to indications today, Frederick Schortemeier, secretary of the Republican state organization, will not be opposed for the nomination for secretary of state.

Bert C. Morgan, said to have the support of Klansmen, was grouped headquarters but said he was not a candidate for secretary of state.

This was taken to mean that a rumored deal with klansmen had been made and that Wilbur Ryman, of Muncie, would be backed by the regular Republican organization for nomination for attorney general in return for support for Schortemeier.

Senator F. Harold Van Orman, of Evansville, is apparently leading in the race for lieutenant governor, although opposition from dry forces is expected.

A boom for Ed Bash, of Salem, was started around headquarters. Bash was defeated in the race for governor in the primaries.

Lewis Bowman, of Richmond, now appears to have no opposition in his race for nomination for auditor of state.

FEW youngsters today ever saw a horse-hair sofa. They wouldn't know what to do with a fire taper, carpet stretcher, or coal oil lamp. They couldn't braid rags into a rug, or wind yarn without tangling. But they know the how and why of typewriters, phonographs, telephones, automobiles; what happens when a push of the button gives light, or a kodak's flash fixes their image on paper.

Advertisements induce such progress. They urge wide use that means improvement. They help you lift the out-of-date into the attic—rid you of the water buckets and soap kettles of slavery. They bring late improvements within your reach.

Pay Dirt At Home

A flush of indignation is the emotion the average person experiences when reading of wholesale swindles. But second thought naturally brings the reflection that most swindles are due to the greed of the swindler, and that they are served right when they allow their avarice to overthrow reason.

When the widow is fleeced out of the insurance money which should have kept herself and her children from want, the indignation is more or less righteous and lasting. Even in such cases as these, however, had the widow consulted and followed the advice of a reputable banker before investing all she had in blue sky stuff, it probably wouldn't have happened.

In the years that have passed, millions of hard earned dollars have been taken out of Rush county, never to return, by oily-tongued strangers who have made their "proposition" look gilt-edged when it was really a gold brick.

Imagine, if you can, the prosperous state in which this community would now be, if all of the money that has been invested in worthless stock, had been put back into this community where it was earned and originated.

Most of the wealth comes from the soil. If one-third of the profit that Rush county land has produced for its owners had been returned to the land in building it up or had been invested in local industries, this spot would be a treasure island in a sea of business uncertainty.

But no end of advice on the subject will be of any avail so long as people are lured by wily tongued salesmen who never fail to refer to the success of Henry Ford and John D. Rockefeller. They forget that there are one hundred and ten million people in the United States and only one Ford and one Rockefeller.

Stifling Commerce

When you hoard money away, you assist in stifling the commercial activity of your home community as well as the whole country at large.

If you put it in the bank, the banker lends it to someone who uses it to produce something. That keeps other people at work and keeps the money in circulation.

If you lend it on a mortgage or buy bonds, it serves the same purpose. It keeps circulating and everybody is benefitted.

When money keeps moving, it enables many people to move.

And the fellow who can't move ahead is in sorry straits.

The dollar that is hidden away is in a bad place.

If you have any such dollars, bring them from their hiding place and put them to work.

SLAIN IN DANCE HALL RIOT

Muncie, Ind., May 21—Six men are in jail on charges of investigation growing out of the fatal shooting of Odell Hutchinson, colored, in a dance hall riot here early yesterday morning. A special session of the grand jury will be held to investigate the slaying.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—"The one hope for Democrats this year is to be Progressives."

"And the one hope for Progressives is to be Democrats."

Thus Carl Vrooman, Progressive Democrat, economist, dirt farmer and former assistant secretary of agriculture, sums up the political prospects for this year of all elements outside the Republican party.

Vrooman, who has just completed a tour of middle-west agricultural states, is now on a swing through the south preaching his doctrine of Democratic-Progressive coalition, which he declares is the only method by which either Democrats or Progressives can hope for success this year.

"There are between six and eight million farmers and their wives who will follow any reasonable hope for an administration that will pull agriculture out of its present difficulties," Vrooman says.

"Neither the performances, policies nor promises of the Republican party satisfy them. They listened to Republican promises and voted for Republican policies four years ago, and their troubles have grown worse, not better."

"Unless the Democratic party adopts a platform definitely presenting a program designed to assist agriculture to its feet again, and nominates an aggressive Progressive in whom the farmer and his wife have faith, then these millions of voters will follow La Follette into any independent or third party movement he may organize."

"This result, certain to follow the selection of any reactionary or conservative Democrat, would of course mean defeat this year of all Progressive prospects. It might give a Progressive balance of power in the next Congress, of course, and might even throw the election of president and vice president into Congress. The final result of this last situation no one can foresee. It would create a situation with the gravest opportunities for corruption, graft and the frustration of the public's desires."

THE danger to the fight of Progressives in the Democratic party, for the nomination of a progressive candidate and the adoption of a progressive platform, according to Vrooman, lies in the influence of a powerful bi-partisan group which seeks to force its type of candidate and of platform on both parties and then can sit back complacently and let Democrats and Republicans fight it out, secure in the knowledge that no matter which side loses it wins.

"This group," Vrooman says, "which has its representatives in the Democratic ranks as well as in the Republican, thinks in terms of interests, not of parties. And the interests of this bi-partisan combine are not the interests of the great mass of American men and women."

VROOMAN, incidentally, may break into the limelight at the New York convention if the seeds of the doctrine he is now sowing in the south, and which he already has planted in the mid-west, sprout before June 24. He is a convincing speaker, widely traveled and informed, with the knack of knowing just how to put his propositions to catch popular understanding.

He is a dirt farmer, actively managing 4500 acres of corn and wheat land in Illinois and Iowa.

As he says:

"I know what the farmer is up against. When he loses money, I lose money."

He is a writer of note on economic subjects, a graduate of Harvard and Oxford. Some have whispered his name as a dark horse or vice presidential candidate.

The Hodge-Podge
By a Paraphraser with a Soul

Most husbands can't understand why their wives "wear" gloves for them to carry around in their pockets.

It's probable that the filling station robbers are beginning to cut in on the profits of even the gasoline and oil companies.

The law presumes that everyone accused is innocent until proved otherwise; so what's the value of a senate committee whitewash?

In case a hospital interferes with the locating of a filling station as in a metropolitan center lately, why move the hospital, of course.

Now if someone will just invent something to pour on troubled oil.

A friend is a fellow who is on the spot, ready to do your bidding, when you need him.

Nothing wastes energy like swatting the fly before the cause for its presence is removed.

Their Last 18 GamesBy HENRY L. FARRELL (U. P. Staff Correspondent)New York, May 21—All of the current excitement in the Major leagues is being supplied by the St.
Louis Browns and the Boston Red Sox.The battle between the Giants and the Reds in the National League continues a bright feature of the early season but it lacks the element of the surprise that is in the unexpected challenges of the Browns and the Red Sox in the American League.The Giants have lost nine out of eleven games on the road and there may be a disposition to figure the champion machine as having collapsed. It will be recalled, however, that McGraw's team had a very bad trip through the west at this time last year and lost eleven games.The Giants, nevertheless, are in grave danger as their pitching has gone to pieces and young Jackson isn't turning out to be the shortstop that his boss thought he would be.
It must be considered also that the Giants have been enjoying just about 100 percent of their playing strength while the Reds have been unable to hit their real stride.Since the Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers failed to do the expected pushing of the champion Yankees, the Browns and the Red Sox have stepped out and placed the champions in a dangerous position.The Browns are playing the most consistent ball in the league. Since April 27 George Sisler has driven his club over everything. He has lost only two games, one to the Indians and one to the Yankees. Fine hitting and good pitching are keeping the Browns in the race and the club has so much potential strength that their current spurt seems to be anything but a temporary flash of form.The Red Sox won 14 of their last 18 games with a lot of good hitting and some better than ordinary pitching. Many of the experts, however, feel that they are playing over their head and that they are due for a fall

Leonard Has Stage Fever

(United Press Sports Editor)New York, May 21—Benny Leonard has developed so much enthusiasm for the theatrical profession and he professes to see such a future in it that it would be no great surprise if he announced his retirement from the ring after the outdoor season.When a champion in these days of few fights and immense purses talks of retirement, the public is justified in considering the conversation to be a lot of bunk.Leonard, as the champion lightweight of the world is, at the very least, a $200,000 a year man, and he is not in his thirties. A surgeon, a lawyer, or an engineer, who has made himself worth $200,000 a year before he passed his twenties, would be mentally deficient if he gave up his business and started in the practice of a new profession.While it is admitted that the boxer hasn't a profession as permanent as a young man with a skilled technical trade, it seems that Leonard has several years ahead of him, and even a few years at such a handsome salary would put the ordinary tradesman at ease for life.Leonard, however, does not look at it that way. He has the theatrical
sensible arguments to show that his desire to get out of the boxing business is not a fad of the moment or a silly hobby.While he was being made up recently by a star cosmetic thrower in a New York movie studio, where he was to go through a 60-round fight for the hand of a movie queen, Leonard unburdened himself of some of his ideas about the boxing business."This commission idea of government is spoiling the game," he said.
"They try to tell a boxer what he must do. They tell a promoter how much he can charge, how many speculators he can seat and what boxers he can match. The New York commission got on me a few days agoand told me that I had to defend the title. I told the commissioners I was ready to fight if they would get an opponent for me, and they had to admit that it would be a job for them to find an opponent."The newspapers play up the exorbitant purses that boxers get and the reformers complain about it. Because of the prominence given in the news to purses paid to fighters, the public gets the idea that boxers are the highest paid performers in the world. They are not. Supposing I do make $300,000 a year, that is small compared to Al Jolson's million dollars a year and the salaries and income of a half million dollars that several other star actors get.BEST FEATURES OF painted, and the glass panels will be lettered to advertise Rushville. All this work will be completed before the July 4 celebration.Traffic regulations are being considered, in which certain streets may be given the right-of-way over others.

For instance, Perkins, Main and Morgan streets may be given through street service, and down town streets will be marked on First, Second and Third streets to "Stop", before proceeding across the three leading north and south streets. The same plan of calling a complete halt at Eleventh street, before coming onto Main street, may be adopted, because of the dangerous condition at the corner.The American Paper Products company of Carthage has made an offer to the council to give Rushville about a dozen car load of cinders, if the city will pay the freight, and the council was instructed to verify the agreement, and order the cinders shipped. They will be distributed around certain streets and alleys.A petition for a sidewalk, filed by Leonard Pate, asking that a sidewalk be built between Sexton and Arthur street, west of the alley, was granted, and plans for the half block will be made at a later date.A. T. Mahin reported that the city had completed its part of Morgan street paving, and that all connections had been renewed, and pine lines completely gone over. The cost of the work amounted to $2,180, the superintendent stated.This notation brought up a discussion on the Morgan street paving, in which the L. & C. Traction line was talked about. The councilmen stated that they would use all means possible to push the construction of the street, and Mayor Thomas stated that he didn't intend to have the street torn up all summer, and that the traction line had better get busy, or
the city would take a hand. It was the opinion that the trouble is be-tween the construction company and the traction line.It was understood that the traction officials were intending to begin work on the track proposition today, and that they had been prevented recently on account of the rain. The C.
I. & W. railroad will reduce their grade over the car tracks in a few days, it was stated at the meeting.HIGH TRIBUTE TO

Resort Favorite

This type of costume was the favorite at Palm Beach and is expected to be at all the summer resorts this season—just a simple pleated outfit of white cotton crepe embroidered at the belt, sleeves and neckline. It is the simplest of all frocks to make at home because the pleater does the work. It is lovely in delicate colors or even in black.

The sorority will meet again next Monday night at the home of Miss Virginia Haydon in North Main street.

Miss Helen Monjar entertained the members of the Tuesday evening Bridge Club Tuesday evening at her home in West Second street. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the card games.

SETS FIRE TO HIS JAIL BED

Brazil Man Prefers Death to Being Returned to Insane Hospital

Brazil, Ind., May 21—John Stewart, 60, set fire to his bed and burned to death at the county jail here today rather than be sent back to the state insane hospital at Madison.

Stewart stuck his shirt in the cracks about the window and hung his coat over the barred door of his cell. Then he tore up the covers and tied himself to the bed and set fire to the straw tick. When the fire was discovered the bed was a mass of flames and Stewart was burned to a crisp. He died a few moments later.

He was to have been returned to the asylum today. He told officers yesterday he would never be taken back alive.

SILHOUETTES WILL BE POPULAR FOR EVENING WEAR THIS SUMMER

By HEDDA HOYT
(Written for United Press)
New York, N. Y., May 21—At present every woman is turning her thoughts toward the Summer evening gown.

There are three silhouettes which will be popular this season for evening wear. Firstly, there is the slender tubular frock which is even used in sheer chiffons as well as in heavier materials. These slender chiffon frocks are usually made over slips of chiffon of a contrasting or deeper shade and they are often bordered about the hem with wide bands of marabou, ostrich, or with flowers. The bodice of these frocks is usually untrimmed, with simple rounding neckline and sleeveless. Frocks of crepe de chene beaded in self colored beads also use the straight, tubular silhouette this season.

The second silhouette is the billowy one with the skirt trimmed with row after row of flounces or layer after layer of tulle. Soft, pastel shades are invariably used for such frocks, and yellow, rose, amethyst and pink are favorite colors. These gowns are particularly attractive for dancing and their simple, youthful lines make them becoming to almost everyone.

In the case where narrow lace ruffles form the skirt, one might use rows of lace of different colors. One very lovely model which uses tan georgette has row upon row of yellow, green and brown lace placed upon the skirt. Another white frock adorns its skirt with alternating layers of narrow black and white silk lace and the effect is very lovely.

The third silhouette is the soft clinging one which terminates in a full flounce at the hem. The flounce is usually cut on the bias of the material and stretched at the bottom into a frilly edge. Again the flounce may be pleated lace to give the fluffy hem effect. Several models of black georgette or chiffon have their flounces trimmed in lace motifs, the lace being narrow and shirred to give fluffiness. The upper portion of these frocks are invariably tubular in effect and are simple as to trim.

By following any one of these silhouettes one can not go wrong in the selection of the Summer evening frock. Of course, none but the slender persons can attempt to wear the billowy frock with the ruffled skirt. A more mature figure will look far better in the tubular frock, providing of course, that the garment is cut to conceal rather than reveal the figure. Although many of the straight-lined tubular frocks have no beltline whatsoever I would suggest a fold of material placed at a low waistline where the wearer has a rounded figure.

The flounce silhouette is decidedly feminine and alluring and one which many women will undoubtedly choose for the dinner or dance frock. When made of lace or of a sheer material, almost any figure will find such a gown quite becoming. Many afternoon gowns of dressier type follow this silhouette adding sleeves which have wide, bias flounces beginning at or below the elbow. This is very effective in black lace.

The newest bead necklaces combine the choker effect and the long chain effect by wrapping the necklace once about the throat. Very large beads are being worn this year, some of them being as large as robin's eggs. Colored glass and wooden beads the size of marbles are very popular. Agate beads, which resemble marbles, are much in demand. Almost every frock has its own necklace this season and, as many lovely chains can be purchased very cheaply this is no strain on the pocketbook. There is a new imitation jade chain which so closely resembles jade that the difference between the real and the imitation is almost unnoticeable. These are very popular.

Bracelets of every description are being worn. The newest, however, is a chain effect with dangles of colored stones or colored enamel extending completely around the bracelet.

SAYS WOMEN CAN MARRY AND BE POLITICIANS TOO

Chicago, May 21—"Ann B" doesn't propose to let political success sway her from what she terms the natural career of women—matrimony.

"Anna B" is 21, blonde and pretty and has the distinction of being delegate-at-large to the Republican national convention from Tennessee. She is the daughter of Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the United States railroad labor board and former governor of Tennessee. To her father, whose secretary she is, she is "Ann B."

In an interview with the United Press today, Miss Hooper declared that women can marry take an active part in politics and at the same time, maintain a happy home.

"I truly believe that women's nature demands marriage in their happiness. Women can't even gain that happiness fully, unless they know something about a home, for instance, and know how to help their husbands in their work."

TO AVOID CLASHES

South Bend, Ind., May 21—Notre Dame university students today were pledged to avoid further clashes with Ku Klux Klansmen. The pledges followed addresses by Rev. Matthew Walsh, president of the University, and Knute Rockne, athletic director calling on the students to leave the problems of South Bend to the police force.

ORANGE MAN ILL

E. E. Davis has been confined to his home in Orange for several days on account of illness.

The Loyal Daughter's Sunday school class will hold an exchange Saturday morning at Kramer's meat market.

Elwood—All youths who smoke cigarettes are being watched by police. Six thousand packages of cigarettes were stolen from a grocery store.

Frankfort—A 22 year old youth was arrested for disturbing the peace when he broke up services at the Christian church by laughing and loud talking.

TO AID OUTDOOR LIFE IN THE U. S.

TO DISCUSS OUTDOOR LIFE

Sec. Weeks to Present Plan For Uniting Efforts of Organizations and Committee

Washington, May 21—Representatives of ninety-six recreational and outdoor life organizations will meet here May 22 to discuss with President Coolidge's Outdoor Recreational Committee ways and means of getting Americans to take more part in outdoor life.

A general plan for uniting the efforts of these organizations and the President committee will be presented by Secretary of War Weeks, chairman of the committee. This plan has been under preparation by Weeks and his associates for more than a month and a thorough study of the situation has been made.

Under the plan the government will take steps to prevent pollution of streams and protect animal life, along the line urged by some of these organizations.

Representatives of several of the organizations, who have been called upon Weeks since the appointment of the committee was first announced at the White House, have urged upon him the inclusion of several points they have been advocating.

In his opening address to the conference Weeks will point to the large number of national reservations, the Federal, State and municipal parks and the thousands of dollars that have been spent by the Government in making outdoor life in America possible.

The Presidential committee hopes to organize a standing organization of those represented to work out plans for State legislation and national-wide publicity.

Not only will the hunting, fishing and forest preservation organizations be represented, but other sports, including baseball, saddle activities and tennis, golf and swimming organizations will be in evidence when the delegates gather.

The committee's plan calls for help from the Boy Scouts of America, the organizations. It is hoped that enlistment of these national bodies of boys and girls will not only help to interest older America, but it is felt that early interests of these youngsters out of the organizations.

The conference is expected to last for three days, during which time all phases of outdoor life will be discussed. In inviting the delegates, the committee asked them to come prepared to present any plans they might have which would forward the movement.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 21—Indiana shippers will be saved $1,000,000 annually through a freight rate cut ordered by the Interstate Commerce commission, it was estimated today by George Mosser, managing director of the state chamber of commerce.

The rate cut, ordered in a decision handed down in the Twin Cities and the Missouri River rate cases, affect Indiana shippers to St. Paul and Minneapolis and other northwestern points.

The decision places the Hoosier shippers on a parity with shippers from adjoining states.

MOVIES

"The Bright Shawl"
Richard Barthelmess fights his first seven duels with swords—and loses valiantly—in the widely heralded John S. Robertson production, "The Bright Shawl", adapted from Joseph Hergesheimer's powerful story dealing with Spanish oppression in Cuba.

This fight is described as one of the most gripping features of the First National picture, which will begin an engagement at the Castle theatre today. Barthelmess is seen in the role of Charles Abbott a young American, who becomes interested in the island's cause and throws in his lot with the Cuban rebels.

At the annual negro dancin, which is attended by both the whites and blacks of Havana, a female spy points out Abbott to a group of Spanish officers and denounces him as an enemy to the crown, as well as a murderer.

He is at once seized, De Vaca, the officer-in-charge, asks Abbott if he prefers facing a firing squad with his back to the wall to crossing swords with him. De Vaca is the best swordsman in Cuba. Abbott is a tyro. But he accepts the challenge and they duel.

The American is but a toy for the skillful De Vaca to play with, but he fights on with tremendous courage and tenacity. Again and again he is beaten into a corner, but each time he plunges gamely back into the fray. Finally, he drops unconscious from sheer exhaustion.

De Vaca, admiring courage above all else, cannot kill him. He spares his life and makes possible the culmination of a happy romance.

Last Showing Today

Plausibility and sincerity are vital necessities in the making of successful comedies, according to Harold Lloyd, whose latest feature Pathe comedy, "Girl Shy" is being shown for the last time today at the Princess theatre. Once that sympathy for the hero has been established laughs are easy to produce, the famous comedian believes. And sincerity is the keynote he has striven to attain in "Girl Shy," which is the story of a small town boy, bashful to a painful degree when in the presence of girls. As a result, "Girl Shy" is said to be more productive of honest-to-goodness laughter than any picture the spectacular funmaker has hitherto made.

DELEGATE SLATE CAST ASIDE; ELECTION TO BE OPEN BATTLE

Says Politics is Not Question of

Name Brings Ovation

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., May 21—Amid cheers that drowned the blare of
brass bands, the Republican state convention opened in Tomlinson Hall
today.

With the Ku Klux Klan factions at
the storm point and an open battle
in progress over selection of delegates-at-large to the national convention, a strenuous today's program
was in prospect.

The audience arose and cheered
wildly as Watson entered the hall
and walked upon the stage. The convention was called to order by Clyde
A. Wall, state chairman.

State Chairman Wall in his introductory speech predicted a Republican victory in the state and nation this fall. He then called on Watson
for the keynote address.

Watson was frequently interrupted
by applause during his speech. Men-
brought the assembly to their feet for
an ovation that lasted several minutes.

No-called slates for delegates-at-large to the national convention were cast aside just before the convention
opened when Watson forces seeking
program.

The field has been thrown open
and nominations for the seven delegates will be made from the floor of the convention on Thursday. Watson announced through his political leaders.

Wild applause broke out in the convention hall when Watson departed
discussed the Ku Klux Klan.

"I did not vote for Ed Jackson for governor, but he is nominated and
came my candidate."

"The Ku Klux Klan vote in the
primaries helped Jackson win the nomination in a walk-away over five
other candidates."

FARES REDUCED ON INTERURBAN LINES

Rolling Here

Reduced fare to Rushville will apply on all electric lines in Indiana;
it was announced today by the public service commission, following a
lodge, asking that reduced rates be given on account of the Indiana State Log rolling July 4.

The rates from all points will be
half on one of the fares here. An
steam lines is being taken up with the railroad commission in Chicago.

The state convention here will
mark the first Fourth of July celebration that has been observed in Rushville for 25 years. The meeting will not apply for the Woodmen, but
celebration and homecoming. The
committees are at work on the plans,
free attractions, daylight and night
Indiana.

The bars on fire works will be let down, and it is expected that a continuous bombardment will be heard

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., May 21—High
spots in Senator Watson's keynote address at the Republican state convention today follows:
"The Republican party is constructive. It builds on the sure foundations laid down by our fathers. It has not,
it does not stand, it will not risk in
speculative experiment the priceless

States with foreign nations for the betterment of conditions abroad consistent with the preservation of our national integrity."

"We Republicans have no sympathy with socialism, that imported product of European social and economic conditions with which America has naught in common."

"Our present policy is to put taxes so high that men of wealth are literally forced to invest in tax free securities and then we turn about
and demand the passage of a law
that will prevent them from thus investing their wealth."

land have reeked with stories of public corruption, exaggerated out of all
proportion to their true values.
broadcast from the capital at Washington as an overture to the campaign of 1924. Believe me, fellow Republicans, when I say that the government of this nation is clean and
safe and sound."

"I do not fear the threatened use
of the so-called 'labor vote' against
placed labor on the highest levels of
life ever attained by workers in all

Keynote of Indiana Republicanism
at State Convention

Sets Forth Achievements of Hard-
Praises Coolidge

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., May 21—Declaring that the principles of the Republican party have made the United
the world, Senator James E. Watson
today paid high tribute to the record
of the Harding-Coolidge administration in his keynote address before the Republican state convention.

"The continuous application of the principles of the Republican party to the administration of our governmental affairs have produced the greatest advancement and development of our institutions and our citizenship found anywhere on earth," Watson declared.

"Abraham Lincoln's first declaration of political principles is the creed of the Republican party today.
The Republican party will not risk
in speculative experiment the priceless heritage that has come down to us."

Watson touched upon every phase
of every national issue and assailed
the Wilson administration for its wartime expenditures.

"Billions were wasted and worse
than wasted while our armies at the front lacked the essentials of war," Watson declared. "I marvel that in the face of this record our Democratic friends in Washington can talk of graft and incompetency."

The speaker went to length into
the subject of taxation and lauded
the Mellon plan as highly desirable
in that it "reduces taxation" all along the line so as to relieve the burden
of those moderately well off and at
the same time lower the tax rate on

Tire Lost, Found, Stolen And Then Found Again

William Hardwick, who runs a
motor bus between here and Brookville, is once more in possession of a spare tire which
has had a hectic experience
during the past week.

An Indianapolis automobile
salesman found it, took it to Indianapolis until Mr. Hardwick
claimed it. When the finder
went to his garage for the tire,
to ship it to Rushville, he found it and his automobile had been stolen.

The stolen automobile was found in west Indianapolis a few days ago and the truck tire
which had been left in an alley
in the same vicinity, was found
and has been returned to the owner.

couple who live alone and are unable to get out in the snow to provide fuel for themselves. The coloring on this
colors. The lettering is done in black
bottom of the poster.

The first prize is one complete 14
at Turkey Run State Park.

Second prize was won by Raymond Jones who used the law "A Scout is Kind". He depicts very cleverly how
a Scout is a friend to animals striv-
second prize is a certificate worth $4
on a 14 day trip to Turkey Run.

All of the posters will be placed in a down town window on display
some time this week. Albert Cotton
and Henrietta Coleman acted as judges
in the contest.

Farm Relief Measure is Only Thing That May Prevent Congress From Ending June 7

HOW LEADERS FEEL ABOUT IT

Dictators of Policy Are Confident President Coolidge Will Sign Revised Tax Bill

Washington, May 21—By a vote of 10 to 6 the senate agriculture committee today rejected Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals irrigate and power project.

Washington, May 21—President
Coolidge will act soon, possibly tomorrow, on the immigration bill containing the Japanese exclusion, it
was said today by his close advisers.
Secrecy is being maintained by the
administration as to what the president has decided to do.

By PAUL R. MALLON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, May 21—Congress-sional leaders today saw but one
obstacle to adjournment on June 7
and that was enactment of a farm
relief measure satisfactory to middlewestern progressives.

Confident that the tax bill as revised by the conference will be signed by the president, the dictators of policy of all factions agreed to Former Rushville Girl Rises to Feature Parts

Miss Carmelita Geraghty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom
J. Geraghty of Hollywood, California, and until fifteen years ago residents of this city, has
in moving pictures, according to
be at the Castle theatre next Monday and Tuesday in "Bag and Baggage," a romantic comedy drama, in which she is featured.

first opportunity to get a glimpse of her on the screen.
She had a minor part in "Black Oxen," but could scarcely be distinguished.

Miss Geraghty will play opposite Jack Dempsey in a series of two-reel comedies yet to be made.

STATE NORMAL SCHOLARSHIP

Will be Awarded by Rush County School Superintendent Farthing

A free tuition at the Indiana State Normal college at Terre Haute will be given to some Rush county student who is expecting to take unteching as a profession as B. D. Farthing, county school superintendent has received notice from the college that he could appoint one applicant.

Mr. Farthing has not made the appointment, and will entertain applicants. The value of the tuition is $50. Mr. Farthing also has two other appointments to make for the Freshman class at Indiana university.

The county board of commissioners make two appointments each year to Purdue, which gives Rush county five appointments to state colleges.

To Deliver Commencement Address to 1924 Graduating Class at Exercises Next Tuesday

This Week Will Mark End of Active
Work in Schools—Pupils to Receive Report Cards Tuesday

Dr. Lewis A. Convis will deliver the address at the annual commenement exercises of the Rushville high school, which will be held next Tuesday evening at eight o'clock at the Graham Annex auditorium, it was announced today.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by the Rev. H. W. Hargett, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Main Street Christian church.

All of the churches of the city will
unite in this service, which is always of great interest to the public.
Dr. Hargett's subject will be "Life,
Royal University."

Dr. Convis, commencement address will be on the subject, "An Adventure in Happiness." He lectured at the Rush county chan-taqua on Russia and won a warm place in the affections of the people of Rush county. Last year Dr.
Convis delivered the commencement
address for the Anderson high school
and Supt. W. A. Denny speaks in
highest terms of his lecture.

The exact number to be graduate with the class of 1924 was not definitely determined today, due to the fact that some members of the class
have not yet made certain that they will get the required number of credits.

It is expected that the class will
be composed of approximately fifty
graduates, but will not be the equal
last year. At that time fifty-four

Raymond Smith, Charged with the Crime, Makes Accusation Testify-
ing in His Own Behalf

WIFE CHIEF STATE WITNESS

(By United Press)
Plymouth, Ind., May 21—Raymond Smith, on trial for the murder of his 73-year-old grandmother two years ago, today accused his wife as the slayer in testifying in
his own behalf.

Smith said he was at the mail box
in front of the house when he heard a shot. He said he rushed into the house and heard his wife say
"Something terrible has happened."

Going into the kitchen, Smith
found his grandmother lying on the floor in a pool of blood, he testified.
Nearby lay a shotgun. His wife
was in the next room in a hysterical condition, he said.

Mrs. Smith accused her husband
of the murder and has been the prin-
trial.

Attorneys for Smith will probably rest today and the case will go to the jury tomorrow.

BUS ORDINANCE RATES REDUCED

City Council Will Consider Measure
Further Before Placing it on Final Reading.

Sale of Fireworks Will be Permitted
Street Delay Discussed

A further discussion on the proposed passage of the motor vehicle
ordinance, licensing and regulating
taxi-cabs, busses and trucks, was
taken up at the session of the city council Tuesday, when the ordinance
was read for the second time, and further action delayed until the next meeting.

The long ordinance, which sets fees that busses and trucks are to
pay, together with several sections
that appear to the councilmen as
having no place in the ordinance, and
which have been characterized by Mayor Thomas as "class legislation", will probably be entirely revamped before final action.

The rates on taxi-cabs and passenger busses were cut last night,
following the first reading of the ordinance. Under the revised schedule busses or cars that seat seven passengers or less will pay $15 a year;
not more than 12 passengers, $25;
not more than 18 passengers $35;
not more than 24 passengers $50 and $75 for busses in excess of 24 passengers.

The rates for trucks were cut, and
for a ton or less the fee will be $5 a year; not more than 2 tons $10; not more than 3 tons, $15 and all over 3 tons, the fee will be $20. After
the discussion on the second reading,
the action was deferred, and further
time is wanted on the proposed ordinance.

The city councilmen will co-operate in all ways possible with the Modern Woodman lodge and all committees in charge of the Fourth of July celebration, when thousands of people are expected here. The use of
works displays and band concerts.

On account of the big celebration,
the city will be turned "wide open"
and an old fashioned Independence Day will prevail, with all of the fire crackers and fire works on hand. An ordinance prohibiting the sale of fireworks, will be overlooked, and merchants will be instructed not to sell
any of the fireworks until the afternoon of July 3.

The streets will be painted for parking space within a few days, and
of painting the streets was left in the hands of the fire committee. The traffic posts down town will also be

I. & C. PREPARES FOR A TEMPORARY TRACK

of Morgan Street

CONTRACTORS TO RUSH WORK

The Indianapolis and Cincinnati
Traction company this morning began work on the moving of their car tracks in Morgan street, and a force of 25 men was on hand. It had been intimated that the street paving would be delayed on account of
the moving of the car tracks, but
officials of the line state that they intend to push their part of the work.

The Andrews Asphalt Paving company, contractors, have finished with
the concrete foundation on the three
lower blocks. The concrete mixer has been shipped to Newcastles where a contract is being started, and the steam shovel also was sent last week.

Today the traction company was unloading rollers along the east side of the street, and the track will be pushed over on the cinder foundation, making room then for the progress of the rest of the street. The other car track will be removed, and
the one track centered in the street.
The paving contractors expect to return the equipment here, and rush
the job to completion within a month after the car tracks have been moved
and set in place.

Huntington, Ind., May 21—Investigation of the causes of the interurban car wreck at Roanoke in which 6 persons were killed and a score injured, was proceeding along a new line here today with Coroner Good in receipt of copies of the train orders given the crew.

Formal hearing will be conducted later this week. A woman living close to the scene of the wreck is said to have told the coroner that if the extra had not been delayed by a trolley coming off, it would have been in the siding in plenty of time to clear the track for the flyer.

disregard the clamor for other legislative and get away for the summer. Progressives will aid in this move by dropping their fight for repeal of the rate making section of the present law, one of the main points in their legislative program.

With this decision, the farm relief bill started rolling in both houses. While the house had the McNary-Haugen measure under consideration, Senator Norris in the senate announced that he would move, probably today, to take up his Norris-Sinclair agriculture bill.

Here is how leader feel about the outlook now:

Senator Robinson, Democrat: "The chances for adjournment June 7 are very good. I see no objection from the Democratic side."

Senator Brookhart—"If a good farm relief bill is passed we will have no objection to adjournment. The president would not sign any repeal of the rail law and so it seems useless to press our fight upon that now and force congress to remain through the summer."

Senator Curtis, Republican—"The senate is a very peculiar legislative body and nobody can tell what it will do next but I see no present objections to adjournment."

These statements take into account the demands of the Ford Muscle Shoals group for action before adjournment; the world court group's announced intention of forcing a vote upon that issue, and declarations by numerous senators that they intend to call up their special bills.

Washington, May 21—Senate and house conferees today reached an agreement on the final sum of the tax bill.

The agreement provides for the democratic normal and surtax rates but eliminates the provisions for full publicity of income tax rates and substitutes the house flat 12 1/2 percent corporation tax for the graduated scale in the senate bill.

ACRES OF RECORDS FILED

War Department Has Prepared a List of "Don'ts" For the 5,250,000 Possible Claimants

By WILLIAM LOSH
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, May 21—Three government departments today started the prodigious task of preparation to pay the veterans the bonus congress gave them yesterday.

The war and navy department began search of acres of records and scrutiny of millions of papers, while the Veterans Bureau which will issue the bonus certificates, began to whip its administrative machinery into shape.

The war department has by far the greatest task with files of 5,250,000 possible claimants to go through.

The navy department fares more easily with only 551,736 enlisted men, 11,880 women yeomen and 80,000 marines. Of all these, it is estimated 3,427,866 will get some form of bonus.

Arrangements have been made to distribute application blanks through postoffices, the American Legion, various military headquarters and various civic societies.

The war department issued the following list of "don'ts" to veterans which it says, if followed will speed up the work:

- 1—Don't write for application blanks. They will be distributed as soon as prepared.
- 2—Read instructions carefully.
- 3—Do not pay fees other than notary charges required in certain cases.
- 4—Do not write the war department for information required on the blank. Do the best you can from memory.
- 5—Mail applications in the envelopes which will be distributed with the blanks.

Next Tuesday, when pupils return for their report cards, will mark the formal closing of the public schools for the year 1923-'24. High school students who were not exempted will take their term examinations Friday and pupils of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, will also take their examinations at that time and be dismissed for good, because they have not had as many vacations this year as the junior and senior high school.

Pupils of the first, second and third grades will follow the usual routine of work Monday and will receive their report cards Tuesday afternoon, along with the other pupils of the schools.

In contrast with the size of the graduating classes of today, the class of twenty years ago today, which was composed of sixteen pupils, was recalled. Those who received diplomas then were as follows:

Edward Payson Weston, world-famous 47-year-old champion hunter, who was the victim of a mysterious attack at his home, Kingston, N. Y., a band of men, armed with guns, clubs and stones, opened an assault upon the veteran; pedestrian and during the melee Weston was shot and slightly wounded.

SAYS THAT MANPOWER IS A GREAT ESSENTIAL

E. H. Lyle, Sheldon School Director, Speaks to Rotarians on "Putting More Brains into Business"

PROCRASTINATION DEPLORED

E. H. Lyle, director of the Indianapolis division of the Sheldon School, spoke to the Rotary club Tuesday noon on "Putting More Brains into Business", emphasizing the importance of manpower in business.

The school he represents is headed by Arthur Frederick Sheldon, internationally famed as a business expert, who gave Rotary International its motto, "He profits most who serves best."

Mr. Lyle set forth a program by which he said any man could improve his business, and emphasized the importance of men, as compared with money and machinery.

"The greatest need of business today is manpower," he said. "Money and machinery are only stored manpower."

Business men, to make their business of service to their customers, he said, should be able to analyze condition, should have good judgment, essential honesty, faith based on constructive experience, and initiative. He deplored procrastination in business, declaring that it was at the bottom of many failures.

Guests at the meeting included Mr. Dettrich and Mr. Bicer of Indianapolis and L. Link of this city.

Watson continued after the demonstration had subsided. "I don't belong to the Catholic church, but I have no objections to any other man belonging if he wants to."

"Politics is not a question of race, creed or class."

The first tilt between the rival groups came in caucusing over the slate of delegates-at-large to the national convention.

A report leaked out of a caucus of old guard leaders that only friends of Senator Watson who would back him for the nomination for vice-president would find a berth on the delegation to Cleveland.

The arrangement met the approval of the Klan element headed by H. W. Evans, imperial wizard, who journeyed here from Atlanta to be on hand for the state convention, and Walter Bossert, imperial representative.

In the camp of the Stephenson faction of the Klan, bitter resentment was aroused by the move to bring the Watson and Bossert elements into alliance.

The principle battle ground between the Klan factions will be on delegates-at-large to the national convention and on selection of nominees for a few of the state offices.

It is tacitly understood that the party platform will make no direct reference to the Klan but will include a plank pledging the party to a guarantee of religious liberty in the general terms of the constitution.

This plank will be satisfactory to Republican klansmen and at the same time will serve as an answer to any anti-Klan plank the Democratic state convention may adopt in June.

The convention as a matter of routine business will ratify the nomination of Ed Jackson as the party's candidate for governor. With the aid of the Klan vote, Jackson won a walk away over five other candidates in the primaries.

The sudden manner in which the Klan affiliated itself with the Republican party and picked a candidate for it was rather disconcerting to the organization Republican leaders, but after the situation was carefully studied, it was decided the best thing to do was to bring the klansmen together to work for the election of the ticket.

From a good many sources, including Ed Jackson, came opposition to the proposal to include only Watson backers. It was said the plan was a scheme to keep former Senator Beveridge and Postmaster General New off the delegation.

Senator Watson, Governor Branch, State Chairman Walb and George Lockwood, editor of the National Republican, are regarded as certain of choice for the delegation. The other three places are in doubt.

James P. Goodrich, former governor, voluntarily withdrew his name from consideration as a possible delegate saying he was weary of the factional fights in the party.

The tentative draft of the platform

indorses the public service commission law and makes no reference to repeal of the direct primary.

One plank will probably ask that funds of the state board of agriculture be placed under the supervision of the state treasurer. This plank is the outgrowth of the loan of $155,000 of the board's money to former Governor McCray.

Delegates will meet by congressional districts in the state house at 7:30 o'clock tonight to choose district delegates to the national convention, in Cleveland.

A hot contest over delegates loomed in some of the districts, particularly in the fifth and sixth. According to indications today, Frederick Schortemeier, secretary of the Republican state organization, will not be opposed for the nomination for secretary of state.

Bert C. Morgan said to have the support of Klansmen, was dropped headquarters but said he was not a candidate for secretary of state.

This was taken to mean that a rumored deal with klansmen had been made and that Wilbur Ryman, of Muncie, would be backed by the regular Republican organization for nomination for attorney general in return for support for Schortemeier.

Senator F. Harold Van Orman, of Evansville, is apparently leading in the race for lieutenant governor, although opposition from dry forces is expected.

A boom for Ed Bush, of Salem, was started around headquarters. Bush was defeated in the race for governor in the primaries.

Lewis Bowman, of Richmond, now appears to have no opposition in his race for nomination for auditor of state.

Tragedy

For 11 hours Helen Duncan, aged 5, kept frightened vigil beside the bodies of her mother and father. In the presence of the child Earl Duncan, Kansas City, Mo., murdered his wife and then ended his own life. The child was found huddled in a corner when police arrived.

Into the Attic

FEW youngsters today ever saw a horse-hair sofa. They wouldn't know what to do with a fire taper, carpet stretcher, or coal oil lamp. They couldn't braid rags into a rug, or wind yarn without tangling. But they know the how and why of typewriters, phonographs, telephones, automobiles; what happens when a push of the button gives light, or a kodak's flash fixes their image on paper.

Their education is as modern as the advertisements they see. They have no more use for the lamp and chimney of yesterday than you for the wick and tallow of the day before.

Advertisements induce such progress. They urge wide use that means improvement. They help you lift the out-of-date into the attic—rid you of the water buckets and soap kettles of slavery. They bring late improvements within your reach.

Read the advertisements regularly. Keep alert to the new.

A flush of indignation is the emotion the average person experiences when reading of wholesale swindles. But second thought naturally brings the reflection that most swindles are due to the greed of the swindler, and that they are served right when they allow their avarice to overthrow reason.

When the widow is fleeced out of the insurance money which should have kept herself and her children from want, the indignation is more or less righteous and lasting. Even in such cases as these, however, had the widow consulted and followed the advice of a reputable banker before investing all she had in blue sky stuff, it probably wouldn't have happened.

In the years that have passed, millions of hard earned dollars have been taken out of Rush county, never to return, by oily-tongued strangers who have made their "proposition" look gilt-edged when it was really a gold brick.

Imagine, if you can, the prosperous state in which this community would now be, if all of the money that has been invested in worthless stock, had been put back into this community where it was earned and originated.

Most of the wealth comes from the soil. If one-third of the profit that Rush county land has produced for its owners had been returned to the land in building it up or had been invested in local industries, this spot would be a treasure island in a sea of business uncertainty.

But no end of advice on the subject will be of any avail so long as people are lured by wily-tongued salesmen who never fail to refer to the success of Henry Ford and John D. Rockefeller. They forget that there are one hundred and ten million people in the United States and only one Ford and one Rockefeller.

Stifling Commerce

When you hoard money away, you assist in stifling the commercial activity of your home community as well as the whole country at large.

If you put it in the bank, the banker lends it to someone who uses it to produce something. That keeps other people at work and keeps the money in circulation.

If you lend it on a mortgage or buy bonds, it serves the same purpose. It keeps circulating and everybody is benefited.

When money keeps moving, it enables many people to move.

And the fellow who can't move ahead is in sorry straits.

The dollar that is hidden away is in a bad place.

If you have any such dollars, bring them from their hiding place and put them to work.

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—"The one hope for Democrats this year is to be Progressives."

"And the one hope for Progressives is to be Democrats!"

Thus Carl Vrooman, Progressive Democrat, economist, dirt farmer and former assistant secretary of agriculture, sums up the political prospects for this year of all elements outside the Republican party.

Vrooman, who has just completed a tour of middle-west agricultural states, is now on a swing through the south preaching his doctrine of Democratic-Progressive coalition, which he declares is the only method by which either Democrats or Progressives can hope for success this year.

"THERE are between six and eight million farmers and their wives who will follow any reasonable hope for an administration that will pull agriculture out of its present difficulties," Vrooman says.

"Unless the Democratic party adopts a platform definitely presenting a program designed to assist agriculture to its feet again, and nominates an aggressive Progressive in whom the farmer and his wife have faith, then these millions of voters will follow La Follette into any independent or third party movement he may organize."

"This result, certain to follow the selection of any reactionary or conservative Democrat, would of course mean defeat this year of all Progressive prospects. It might give a Progressive balance of power in the next Congress, of course, and might even throw the election of president and vice president into Congress. The final result of this last situation no one can foresee. It would create a situation with the gravest opportunities for corruption, graft and the frustration of the public's desires."

THE danger to the fight of Progressives in the Democratic party, for the nomination of a progressive candidate and the adoption of a progressive platform, according to Vrooman, lies in the influence of a powerful Missouri group which seeks to force its type of candidate and of platform on both parties and then can sit back complacently and let Democrats and Republicans fight it out, secure in the knowledge that no matter which side loses it wins.

"This group," Vrooman says, "which has its representatives in the Democratic ranks as well as in the Republican, thinks in terms of interests, not of parties. And the interests of this bi-partisan combine are not the interests of the great mass of American men and women."

VROOMAN, incidentally, may break into the limelight at the New York convention if the seeds of the doctrine he is now sowing in the south, and which he already has planted in the mid-west, sprout before June 24. He is a convincing speaker, widely traveled and informed, with the knack of knowing just how to put his propositions to catch popular understanding.

He is a dirt farmer, actively managing 400 acres of corn and wheat land in Illinois and Iowa. As he says:

"I know what the farmer is up against. When he loses money, I lose money."

He is a writer of note on economic subjects, a graduate of Harvard and Oxford. Some have whispered his name as a dark horse or vice presidential candidate.

REAL ESTATE MOVER

Bloomington, Ind., 21—Bloomington real estate values have increased considerably over last year, but Monroe county farms have decreased, it was revealed by County Auditor Horace Blakely, in his compilation of the valuations for taxation. City and county property combined will be slightly more than $16,000,000, he estimated, a marked increase over last year's valuations.

Texas Lady Says Her Family Has Been Taking Thorford's Black-Draught, When Needed, for Many Years.

Alto, Texas.—"We inherited the use of Black-Draught in our family," says Mrs. Mary Shuptrine, who lives near here on R. F. D. 2. "My grandmother was an old woman when she died about ten years ago, and she had been using it literally ever since I can remember. She gave it to her children and grandchildren for biliousness and stomach complaints, so when I went to housekeeping we just naturally used it, too."

"I give it to my children for a purgative whenever they need one, and we are never without it. Made into tea, it surely is fine. It's the best home remedy for headache and constipation I know of."

During over 80 years of its continued popularity, Black-Draught has become the standard liver medicine in many thousands of homes, where it has been found of great benefit in the treatment of constipation, biliousness, indigestion and other common liver, stomach and bowel complaints. Ten million packages of Black-Draught are now sold a year, as more and more people are learning of the value of this well-known remedy.

BROWN AND SOX
RACE EXCITINGAll of Current Excitement in Major

GIANTS LOST 9 OUT OF 11

Browns Are Playing Most Consistent Ball And Red Sox Have Won 14 of
Their Last 18 GamesBy HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)New York, May 21—All of the current excitement in the Major Leagues is being supplied by the St.
Louis Browns and the Boston Red Sox.The battle between the Giants and the Reds in the National League continues a bright feature of the early season but it lacks the element of
the surprise that is in the unexpected
challenges of the Browns and the Red Sox in the American League.The Giants have lost nine out of eleven games on the road and there may be a disposition to figure the
champion machine as having collapsed. It will be recalled, however,
that McGraw's team had a very bad
trip through the west at this time
last year and lost eleven games.The Giants, nevertheless, are in grave danger as their pitching has gone to pieces and young Jackson isn't turning out to be the shortstop
that his boss thought he would be.
Giants have been enjoying just about 100 percent of their playing strength
while the Reds have been unable to hit their real stride.Since the Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers failed to do the expected pushing of the champion Yankees, the Browns and the Red Sox
have stepped out and placed the
champions in a dangerous position.The Browns are playing the most consistent ball in the league. Since April 27 George Sisler has driven his
club over everything. He has lost only two games, one to the Indians and one to the Yanks. Fine hitting and good pitching are keeping the Browns
in the race and the club has so much potential strength that their current spurt seems to be anything
but a temporary flash of form.The Red Sox won 14 of their last 18 games with a lot of good hitting
and some better than ordinary pitching. Many of the experts, however,
feel that they are playing over their

Leonard Has Stage Fever

(United Press Sports Editor)New York, May 21—Benny Leonard has developed so much enthusiasm for the theatrical profession
and he professes to see such a future
in it that it would be no great surprise if he announced his retirement
from the ring after the outdoor season.When a champion in these days of
few fights and immense purses talks
of retirement, the public is justified
in considering the conversation to be
a lot of bunk.Leonard, as the champion lightweight of the world is, at the very least, a $200,000 a year man, and he is not in his thirties. A surgeon, a lawyer, or an engineer, who has made himself worth $200,000 a year before
he passed his twenties, would be mentally deficient if he gave up his
business and started in the practice
of a new profession.While it is admitted that the boxer
hasn't a profession as permanent as
a young man with a skilled technical
trade, it seems that Leonard has several years ahead of him, and even a few years at such a handsome salary
would put the ordinary tradesman at
ease for life.Leonard, however, does not look at it that way. He has the theatrical
sensible arguments to show that his desire to get out of the boxing business is not a fad of the moment or
a silly hobby.While he was being made up recently by a star cosmetic thrower in a New York movie studio, where he was to go through a 60-round fight
for the hand of a movie queen, Leonard unburdened himself of some of his ideas about the boxing business."This commission idea of government is spoiling the game," he said.
"They try to tell a boxer what he must do. They tell a promoter how much he can charge, how many speculators he can seat and what boxers
he can match. The New York com-

this work will be completed before

had completed its part of Morgan tions had been renewed, and pipe lines completely gone over. The cost of the work amounted to $2,180, the

superintendent stated.This notation brought up a discussion on the Morgan street paving
in which the L. & C. Traction line was talked about. The councilmen stated that they would use all means possible to push the construction of the street, and Mayor Thomas stated that he didn't intend to have the street torn up all summer, and that the
the city would take a hand. It was
the opinion that the trouble is be-tween the construction company and the traction line.It was understood that the traction officials were intending to begin work on the track proper this day,
and that they had been prevented re-

Resort Favorite

This type of costume was the favorite at Palm Beach and is expected to be at all the summer resorts this season—just a simple pleated outfit of white cotton crepe embroidered at the belt, sleeves and neckline. It is the simplest of all frocks to make at home because the pleater does the work. It is lovely in delicate colors or even in black.

SETS FIRE TO HIS JAIL BED

Brazil, Ind., May 21—John Stewart, 60, set fire to his bed and burned to death at the county jail here today rather than be sent back to the state insane hospital at Madison.

Stewart stuck his shirt in the cracks about the window and hung his coat over the barred door of his cell. Then he tore up the covers and tied himself to the bed and set fire to the straw tick. When the fire was discovered the bed was a mass of flames and Stewart was burned to a crisp. He died a few moments later.

By HEDDA HOYT
(Written for United Press)

There are three silhouettes which will be popular this season for evening wear. Firstly, there is the slender tubular frock which is even used in sheer chiffons as well as in heavier materials. These slender chiffon frocks are usually made over slips of chiffon of a contrasting or deeper shade and they are often bordered about the hem with wide bands of marabou, ostrich, or with flowers. The bodice of these frocks is usually untrimmed, with simple rounding neckline and sleeveless. Frocks of crepe de chene beaded in self colored beads also use the straight, tubular silhouette this season.

The second silhouette is the billowy one with the skirt trimmed with row after row of flounces or layer after layer of tulle. Soft, pastel shades are invariably used for such frocks, and yellow, rose, amethyst and pink are favorite colors. These gowns are particularly attractive for dancing and their simple, youthful lines make them becoming to almost everyone.

In the case where narrow lace ruffles form the skirt, one might use rows of lace of different colors. One very lovely model which uses tan georgette has row upon row of yellow, green and brown lace placed upon the skirt. Another white frock adorns its skirt with alternating layers of narrow black and white silk lace and the effect is very lovely.

The third silhouette is the soft clinging one which terminates in a full flounce at the hem. The flounce is usually cut on the bias of the material and stretched at the bottom into a frilly edge. Again the flounce may be pleated lace to give the fluffy hem effect. Several models of black georgette or chiffon have their flounces trimmed in lace motifs, the lace being narrow and shirred to give fluffiness. The upper portion of these frocks are invariably tubular in effect and are simple as to trim.

By following any one of these silhouettes one can not go wrong in the selection of the Summer evening frock. Of course, none but the slender persons can attempt to wear the billowy frock with the ruffled skirt. A more mature figure will look far better in the tubular frock, providing of course, that the garment is cut to conceal rather than reveal the figure. Although many of the straight-lined tubular frocks have no belting whatsoever I would suggest a fold of material placed at a low waistline where the wearer has a rounded figure.

The flounce silhouette is decidedly feminine and alluring and one which many women will undoubtedly choose for the dinner or dance frock. When made of lace or of a sheer material, almost any figure will find such a gown quite becoming. Many afternoon gowns of dressier type follow this silhouette adding sleeves which have wide, bias flounces beginning at or below the elbow. This is very effective in black lace.

chain effect by wrapping the necklace once about the throat. Very large beads are being worn this year, some of them being as large as robin's eggs. Colored glass and wooden beads the size of marbles are very popular. Agate beads, which resemble marbles, are much in demand. Almost every frock has its own necklace this season and, as many lovely chains can be purchased very cheaply this is no strain on the pocketbook. There is a new imitation jade chain which so closely resembles jade that the difference between the real and the imitation is almost unnoticeable. These are very popular.

Bracelets of every description are being worn. The newest, however, is a chain effect with dangles of colored stones or colored enamel extending completely around the bracelet.

SAYS WOMEN CAN MARRY AND BE POLITICIANS TOO

Chicago, May 21—"Ann B" doesn't propose to let political success away her from what she terms the natural career of women—matrimony.

"Ann B" is 21, blonde and pretty and has the distinction of being delegate-at-large to the Republican national convention from Tennessee. She is the daughter of Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the United States railroad labor board and former governor of Tennessee. To her father, whose secretary she is, she is "Ann B."

In an interview with the United Press today, Miss Hooper declared that women can marry take an active part in politics and at the same time, maintain a happy home.

"I truly believe that women's nature demands marriage in their happiness. Women can't even gain that happiness fully, unless they know something about a home, for instance, and know how to help their husbands in their work."

TO AVOID CLASHES

South Bend, Ind., May 21—Notre Dame university students today were pledged to avoid further clashes with Ku Klux Klansmen. The pledges followed addresses by Rev. Matthew Walsh, president of the University, and Knute Rockne, athletic director calling on the students to leave the problems of South Bend to the police force.

TO AID OUTDOOR LIFE IN THE U. S.

TO DISCUSS OUTDOOR LIFE

Sec. Weeks to Present Plan For Uniting Efforts of Organizations and Committee

Washington, May 21—Representatives of ninety-six recreational and outdoor life organizations will meet here May 22 to discuss with President Coolidge's Outdoor Recreational Committee ways and means of getting Americans to take more part in outdoor life.

A general plan for uniting the efforts of these organizations and the Presidential committee will be presented by Secretary of War Weeks, chairman of the committee. This plan has been under preparation by Weeks and his associates for more than a month and a thorough study of the situation has been made.

Under the plan the government will take steps to prevent pollution of streams and protect animal life, along the line urged by some of these organizations.

Representatives of several of the organizations, who have been called upon Weeks since the appointment of the committee was first announced at the White House, have urged upon him the inclusion of several points they have been advocating.

In his opening address to the conference Weeks will point to the large number of national reservations, the Federal, State and municipal parks and the thousands of dollars that have been spent by the Government in making outdoor life in America possible.

The Presidential committee hopes to organize a standing organization of those represented to work out plans for State legislation and nationwide publicity.

Not only will the hunting, fishing and forest preservation organizations be represented, but other sports, including baseball, saddle activities and tennis, golf and swimming organizations will be in evidence when the delegates gather.

The committee's plan calls for help from the Boy Scouts of America, the organizations. It is hoped that enlistment of these national bodies of boys and girls will not only help to interest older America, but it is felt that early interests of these youngsters out of the organizations.

The conference is expected to last for three days, during which time all phases of outdoor life will be discussed. In inviting the delegates, the committee asked them to come prepared to present any plans they might have which would forward the movement.

"The Bright Shawl"

Richard Barthelmess fights his first screen duel with swords—and loses valiantly—in the widely heralded John S. Robertson production, "The Bright Shawl", adapted from Joseph Hergesheimer's powerful story dealing with Spanish oppression in Cuba.

This fight is described as one of the most gripping features of the First National picture, which will begin an engagement at the Castle theatre today. Barthelmess is seen in the role of Charles Abbott a young American, who becomes interested in the island's cause and throws in his lot with the Cuban rebels.

At the annual negro dancin, which is attended by both the whites and blacks of Havana, a female spy points out Abbott to a group of Spanish officers and denounces him as an enemy to the crown, as well as a murderer.

He is at once seized. De Vaca, the officer-in-charge, asks Abbott if he prefers facing a firing squad with his back to the wall to crossing swords with him. De Vaca is the best swordsman in Cuba. Abbott is a tyro. But he accepts the challenge and they duel.

The American is but a toy for the skillful De Vaca to play with, but he fights on with tremendous courage and tenacity. Again and again he is beaten into a corner, but each time he plunges gamely back into the fray. Finally, he drops unconscious from sheer exhaustion.

Plausibility and sincerity are vital necessities in the making of successful comedies, according to Harold Lloyd, whose latest feature Pathe comedy, "Girl Shy" is being shown for the last time today at the Princess theatre. Once that sympathy for the hero has been established laughs are easy to produce, the famous comedian believes. And sincerity is the keynote he has striven to attain in "Girl Shy," which is the story of a small town boy, bashful to a painful degree when in the presence of girls. As a result, "Girl Shy" is said to be more productive of honest-to-goodness laughter than any picture the spectacled funmaker has hitherto made.
